

UNIVERSITY OF WESTERN AUSTRALIA LAW REVIEW – SPECIAL EDITION ON ENVIRONMENTAL LAW

GUEST EDITORS – ERIKA TECHERA AND TAYANAH O'DONNELL

Introductory editorial

Erika Techera and Tayanah O'Donnell – At the frontiers of environmental law
1

Articles

Trevor Daya-Winterbottom – Rights, reasons, and international norms
4

Alice Bleby – Rights of nature as a response to the Anthropocene
33

Ashleigh Best – Disaster Risk Reduction, Vulnerability and the Law: A Case for Including Animals
68

Jeanette Høj Jensen – Law, Interdisciplinarity and 'Wicked' Problems
100

Brad Jessup – Statues and status: The legal geography of landscape values and belonging
140

Tayanah O'Donnell - The legal geographies of the troposphere	170
Sarah Flynnne - Opportunities for 'next generation' climate litigation in Western Australia	189
Ruby Hamilton and Piers Verstegen - Addressing carbon and climate change through environmental impact assessment: A case study of Western Australian LNG and the "Burrup Hub" project	223
Jürgen Bröhmer - Germany's Climate Change Agenda: A Critical Overview	264
Judith Preston and Shannon Peters - How does the Land and Environment Court clinical program for law students facilitate access to environmental justice?	295
Book reviews
Erika Techera - Tayanah O'Donnell et al, Legal Geography: perspectives and methods	321
Tayanah O'Donnell - Jennifer McKay, Water Regulation and coal seam gas	324
Brad Jessup - Rowena Maguire et al, Environmental, Planning and Climate Law in Queensland	326